First-Time Attendee

Laboratory Technician Members

Save Over $900 off Scientific Session Tuition!

AACD understands the integral role dental laboratory technicians play in contemporary cosmetic dentistry. Laboratory technician continuing education is a major focus at the 25th Anniversary AACD Scientific Session, EXCELLENCE IN COSMETIC DENTISTRY 2009, in Honolulu, Hawaii from Monday, April 27 - Friday, May 1, 2009.

Your Tuition Includes:

- Attendance in Open Lectures and Applicable Hands-On Workshops
- Motivational and Entertaining General Sessions
- Various Social Events Including the Welcome Reception, Continental Breakfasts, and Lunches
- Entry into the Exhibit Hall where the Latest Products and Technology are on Display

AACD member laboratory technicians who have not yet attended an annual AACD scientific session are eligible to attend EXCELLENCE IN COSMETIC DENTISTRY 2009 at the laboratory auxiliary rate - meaning you will receive over $900 in savings off the regular AACD member laboratory technician tuition rate.

Course selection begins online on December 5, 2008.

We highly encourage you to pre-select courses online in advance, as you are required to be registered for each specific course you plan to attend on-site.
